

Socioanalysis

The Journal of Group Relations Australia

AN INTERNATIONAL PEER REVIEWED JOURNAL ABOUT GROUPS, ORGANISATIONS
AND SOCIETY FROM THE SYSTEMS PSYCHODYNAMIC PERSPECTIVE

CALL FOR PAPERS Volume 20, 2018

GRA is excited as this is our 20th year of publication.

Please send papers by June 1st

Socioanalysis is 'the activity of exploration, consultancy and action research which combines and synthesises methodologies and theories derived from psychoanalysis, group relations, social systems thinking, organisation behaviour and social dreaming'.

Socioanalysis reflects the debt we owe to psychoanalysis and also the recognition that we carry some of its ideas and practices into a more social arena.

This journal addresses the need to provide a vehicle for the publication of papers in the area of socioanalysis. Our policy is to invite papers of an international standard whilst supporting both established and new writers.

The Editorial Board calls for papers appropriate to the journal. Please send your paper to the Editor-in Chief Dr. Susan Long susandianelong@gmail.com for initial assessment.

Socioanalysis is produced annually. From time to time we produce special issues. The title of special issues will be announced on this website.

Notes for Contributors

1. Manuscripts should be a maximum of 5,000 words in length.
2. Contributors should provide an electronic copy (microsoft word, font size 12). A hard copy is optional and helps with formatting.
3. Manuscripts should be presented in standard English, although the editor will accept local spelling variations. Please use a spell and grammar checker before submitting.
4. References are listed at the end of the text. All and only references made in the text should appear in the reference list.
5. References in the text should be cited in the Harvard style, i.e., name of author followed by date of publication in brackets. For example, Higgin & Bridger (1964).
6. References should appear in the following style:
 - For books: author(s) (family name followed by initials); date of publication in brackets; title of book in italics, place of publication followed by double colon and the name of the publisher.
Example:

Bion, W.R. (1961) Experiences in Groups and other papers. London: Tavistock Publications.

- For journal articles: author(s) (family name followed by initials); date of publication in brackets; title of article in single quote marks; noted as 'in' name of journal in italics; journal volume and issue numbers; page numbers of article and the name of the publisher. Example:

Long, S. and Newton, J. (1997) 'Educating the Gut: socio-emotional aspects of the learning organization' in The Journal of Management Development, Vol. 16, No. 4. pp. 284-301. MCB University Press.

7. We will send out papers asking you for copyright within the journal.
8. Avoid using footnotes. If notes for the text are absolutely essential, then number each note in order in the text and provide end notes prior to the references.
9. Use single 'smart style' quotation marks, reserving double quotes for a quote within a quote.
10. Indent large quotations. Always indicate the source of the quote including the page number of the quote in its original source.
11. Socioanalysis provides for blind review in which the identity of the author is unknown to the reviewers.
12. Authors should provide a brief synopsis or abstract of their article and four key words.
13. Authors should provide a brief biographical note of no more than 150 words on a separate page.
