

Copyright and Licensing

The copyright of all articles published in Socioanalysis is held by Group Relations Australia (GRA). Authors submitting manuscripts to Socioanalysis, and in the event of acceptance for publication, transfer the copyright of their articles to the journal. By doing so, GRA will protect and disseminate the copyrighted work effectively, ensuring its accessibility to a wide audience while upholding academic integrity and copyright standards. Authors' intellectual property rights will be respected, and the work attributed to the authors appropriately. On publication authors may share their article with their peers, and self-archive their accepted manuscript 12-months after publication. At this time, open access is not available for Socioanalysis.
