SOCIOANALYSIS

Journal of Group Relations Australia
Editor-in-chief, Dr Susan Long, Professor Emeritus

AN INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL ABOUT GROUPS, ORGANISATIONS AND SOCIETY FROM THE SYSTEMS PSYCHODYNAMIC PERSPECTIVE

CALL FOR PAPERS
Volume 29 Issue 2, August 2028
Please send papers by September 30th, 2027

Socioanalysis is 'the activity of exploration, consultancy and action research which combines and synthesises methodologies and theories derived from psychoanalysis, group relations, social systems thinking, organisation behaviour and social dreaming'.

Socioanalysis reflects the debt we owe to psychoanalysis and also the recognition that we carry some of its ideas and practices into a more social arena.

This journal addresses the need to provide a vehicle for the publication of scientific papers in the area of socio-analysis. Our policy is to invite papers of an international standard whilst supporting both established and new writers.

Socioanalysis is produced twice a year.

Socioanalysis publishes scientific papers and book reviews. The journal is now expanding to include:

- Opinion Pieces that address current societal concerns from a socioanalytic perspective.
- Creative Products that express socioanalytic concepts and practices eg, poetry, short stories.

The Editorial Board calls for papers appropriate to the journal. Please send your paper to socioanalysis@grouprelations.org.au

The Editorial Board also calls for book reviews, creative products and opinion pieces relevant to socioanalytic perspectives.

If you would like to contribute a book review please contact the Book Review Editor at socioanalysis.bookrevieweditor@grouprelations.org.au

Please send your creative product or opinion piece to socioanalysis@grouprelations.org.au

Notes for Contributors of papers

1. Manuscripts should be a maximum of 6,500 words in length (12pt font).

2. Contributors should provide an electronic copy (Microsoft Word .doc or .docx).

3. Authors should provide a short abstract, four key words and a brief biographical note of no more than 150 words on a separate page.

4. Socioanalysis conducts double-blind review of submitted articles in which the identity of the author is unknown to the reviewers.

5. Published by Group Relations Australia, Victoria Australia Copyright 2024 © for the journal and individual papers is held by Group Relations Australia.
6. Manuscripts should be presented in standard English, although the editors will accept local spelling variations. Please use a spell and grammar checker before submitting.

7. Avoid using footnotes. If notes for the text are absolutely essential, then number each note in order in the text and provide end notes prior to the references.

8. Use single 'smart style' quotation marks, reserving double quotes for a quote within a quote.

9. Indent large quotations. Always indicate the source of the quote including the page number of the quote in its original source.

10. References are listed at the end of the text. All and only references made in the text should appear in the reference list.

11. References in the text should be cited in the Harvard style, i.e., name of author followed by date of publication in brackets. For example, Higgin & Bridger (1964).

12. References should appear in the following style:

- _For books: author(s) (family name followed by initials); date of publication in brackets; title of book in italics, place of publication followed by double colon and the name of the publisher. Example:
  Bion, W.R. (1961) Experiences in Groups and other papers. London: Tavistock Publications.

- _For journal articles: author(s) (family name followed by initials); date of publication in brackets; title of article in single quote marks; noted as 'in' name of journal in italics; journal volume and issue numbers; page numbers of article and the name of the publisher. Example:

Long, S. and Newton, J. (1997) 'Educating the Gut: socio-emotional aspects of the learning organization' in The Journal of Management Development, Vol. 16, No. 4. pp. 284-301. MCB University Press.

• _For chapters in edited volumes: author(s) (family name followed by initials); date of publication in brackets; title of chapter in single quote marks; noted as 'in' name of editor(s) with initials prior to family name(s); name of book in italics; place of publication; the name of the publisher and finally page numbers of the chapter. Example:

Miller, E.J. (1990) 'Experiential Learning in Groups 1. The development of the Leicester model' in E. Trist and H. Murray (eds.) The Social Engagement of Social Science. Volume 1: the social-psychological perspective. London: Free Association Books, pp. 165-185.